Introduction

It is pertinent to say that teacher training remains the key element in improving schools and increasing learning outcomes.

Jigawa State Ministry of Education Science and Technology (MOEST) and the State Universal Basic Education Board (SUBEB) are working with the United Kingdom (UK) Department for International Development (DFID) and Education Sector Support Programme in Nigeria (ESSPIN), to increase capacity of teachers and head teachers to be effective and accountable on literacy, numeracy and leadership in Primary schools.

This work has focussed on how to make teaching child centred, and the organisational structure needed to improve service delivery. With the introduction of the full lesson plans, which came after the initial pilot abridged version, the story of ineffective methods of teaching literacy and numeracy is changing.

The introduction of lesson plans was to ensure that classroom teachers' capacity was improved. Among other things, the lesson plans sought to address the issue of poor methods of teaching by offering step-by-step guidance to teachers on how to deliver good quality lessons in literacy and numeracy.

The complete modules of lesson plans for Primary 1—5 were produced through the efforts of the State School Improvement Team (SSIT), with technical assistance from ESSPIN funded by the UK Department for International Development (DFID).

Alongside the plans the new structure and process ensures that teachers are continuously supported by both the SSITs and the Local Government Education Authority (LGEA) based School Support Officers (SSOs).

I am confident that with the correct implementation and targetted support, these lesson plans will raise standards and improve the quality of teaching and learning outcomes. Salisu Zakar Hadejia Executive Chairman, SUBEB, Jigawa State

A visit to the village

Sara and Audu went to visit their grandparents in their village. They took along some loaves of soft bread.

Grandfather loves Sara and Audu. He always tells them stories about the village. Grandfather usually sits in the rocking-chair. But on that day, he was not sitting in the rockingchair. Grandmother was cooking near the hut. "Good morning, Grandmother." said the children. "Welcome, Sara and Audu. I'm very pleased to see you," said Grandmother. "Thank vou. Grandmother. Where is Grandfather?," asked the children. "He's in the hut. He's not very well. I'm cooking stew for him. Yesterday, he didn't want any food. But today he wants some stew." said Grandmother. "Oh!." said the children. "We'll sit with him and give him the stew. We brought him some loaves of soft bread. They are very fresh!" "Thank you, please take them over to him." said Grandmother.

Audu and Sara went into Grandfather's room and said, "Good morning Grandfather, what's the matter?" "Hello children, I am pleased to see you. I do not feel well. My body feels very hot," said Grandfather. "Shall we call in the nurse from the clinic?," Asked Sara. "No, no, I shall be well soon. I only need some hot stew and I'll be well again," said Grandfather.

"Here is a soft loaf of bread. It's fresh and very soft," said Audu. "Thank you, Grandson. I shall eat the soft bread with some stew and then I shall be strong again," said Grandfather.

So, the children sat by Grandfather's bed and fed him with the soft bread and hot stew.

A biography of Mai Idris Alooma of Bornu

Mai Idris Alooma was a deeply religious follower of Islam and a very great leader who ruled the Kingdom of Kanem-Bornu over 400 years ago. During his reign he made Kanem-Bornu one of the strongest countries in Africa. The story begins with his father, the Mai (King) of Bornu who lived more than 400 years ago with his wife Princess Aisha of Kanem. The small family lived happily together for a short time and then sadly the Mai died, leaving his baby son Idris Alooma to rule the kingdom.

People wanted a strong, brave warrior Mai who could lead them into battle, not a baby. However, his mother was a clever and caring woman who kept her son safe from people who wanted to kill him. She ruled the kingdom until he grew up and could be the Mai. The country had many fierce enemies so Mai Idris Alooma formed a strong army to keep the people in his country safe. His brave army rode into battle on camels and horses. Eventually he defeated all his enemies and there was peace in the kingdom.

During his time as Mai, he helped many African people to come and study in the country. He also encouraged traders from across Africa to buy and sell new things.

One of the most interesting things he brought from other places were camels. They were able to do more work in the desert sun than the donkeys and oxen.

To make travel easier he built long, flat bottomed boats which could be used on the rivers. This clever and caring Mai was also a builder. He built new brick mosques in the cities and founded a hostel in Mecca for Bornu pilgrims.

He died in 1609 leaving a strong and peaceful country behind.
