Literacy lesson plans Primary 1 Term 3 Assessment for learning

This is the sixth in a series of six literacy lesson plan publications, designed to be used throughout the three academic school terms.

Introduction

Good teaching can help learners achieve positive outcomes, even in difficult circumstances. But learners have little chance of making progress where the teaching is poor.

Throughout 2010 in Kaduna State, the Ministry of Education carried out baseline surveys to assess classroom teachers, headteachers and pupil learning outcomes. Sadly, the findings were alarmingly poor. It was clear that despite substantial inputs into education, the majority of teachers were themselves victims of an education system that was in a serious downward spiral. Following this research, the State Ministry of Education, the State Universal Basic Education Board and local government education authorities, supported by the Education Sector Support Programme in Nigeria (ESSPIN), embarked on a series of reforms to strengthen schools.

To improve the teaching of basic literacy and numeracy in primary schools, Kaduna is introducing a carefully designed series of literacy and numeracy lesson plans for primary 1–3 teachers. These provide a step-bystep guide to teachers, while ensuring that teaching and learning become more exciting and children become active learners.

Alongside the lesson plans, structures and processes have been put in place so that teachers are continuously supported by the State School Improvement Team and specially-trained school support officers.

I am confident that these lesson plans will raise standards in our schools. I commend all those who have worked hard to produce these plans and train our teachers to use them, and I offer thanks to the UK Department for International Development (DFID) for its ongoing support for education reform in Kaduna State through its ESSPIN programme.

Assessment for learning

Effective assessment supports learning, giving all pupils the chance to be successful learners.

Assessment in the classroom happens all the time, it is an ongoing process. It helps you to find out:

What your pupils have learned.

How well you are teaching.

How to plan your next steps of teaching.

What your pupils are doing well and what they need to practise.

In every lesson you should walk round the classroom and ask questions to see if the pupils clearly understand what you have taught them. If they do not, then you should help by explaining the idea to them again – maybe in a different way or with another example, or you could ask another pupil to help them.

Assessment used each day in the classroom gives you a much broader picture of your pupils' ability and progress. It also helps to give your pupils a sense of achievement, helping them to understand what they can do well and what they still need to practise.

There are many ways that you can assess your pupils' knowledge and understanding:

By observing.

۲

Using careful questioning.

Through discussion with individuals, pairs or groups of pupils.

When marking work produced by individual pupils.

Looking at exams at the end of a term.

In every classroom there will always be some pupils who learn faster than others. When you read the learning outcomes for each day, think about which of your pupils will achieve them at the end of the lesson and which of them will need more time to achieve the learning outcomes.

As you get to know your pupils you will be able to plan how you can help each pupil to do their best in every lesson.

Tortoise and the dog story

Market story

Once upon a time it did not rain for a long time. The crops did not grow. There was very little food to eat. One day, Tortoise told his wife that he was going to get food. He told his friend Dog to follow him to a farm. Yams were growing on the farm. Dog took two yams and ran home. Tortoise kept packing more and more yams into his big bag. Suddenly the farmer came. He was very cross. It is not good to steal or take things that do not belong to us.

On Saturday afternoon, Simbi is sent to the market by her mother. Simbi has to buy a pineapple for the family to eat.

At the market place, Simbi sees a lot of shops where many things are sold. She also sees many buyers and sellers. The buyers are busy moving from one shop to the other. A hen is pecking corn. Simbi sees Mustapha. Mustapha is buying fish for his mother. It is hot and Simbi cannot see a pineapple. Simbi is sad. At last Simbi sees a woman selling pineapples. The woman is Simbi's friend. Simbi plays with the baby. The woman is happy to see Simbi. She gives her some sweets.

The woman is also selling rice, yams, beans and fish. Simbi buys a pineapple. The woman gives Simbi her change. Simbi goes home happy because she has the pineapple and her sweets.

Special thanks go to:

In 2008, Kwara State carried out a Teachers' Development Needs Assessment for all primary school teachers. This showed that most teachers in Kwara State did not have strong literacy and numeracy skills. The Kwara State Government responded by developing a strategy to support existing teachers and improve new teachers' pre-service training.

These literacy and numeracy lesson plans, developed by the Kwara State School Improvement Team, were part of that strategy. Two years after introducing these plans alongside the training and support programme, Kwara State began to see strong improvements in teachers' teaching skills and pupils' learning outcomes. The Honourable Commissioner and staff of the Kwara State Ministry of Education and Human Capital Development, as well as the Kwara State Universal Basic Education Board for their support and valuable input and for agreeing to share these plans with other states.

The UK's Department for International Development (DFID) and the DFID-funded ESSPIN programme for their input, focus, guidance and constructive criticism throughout the development of the plans.

Thanks also go to the teachers of Kwara State who have used these plans to bring about change in their classrooms.
