▶ Asking questions

This is the fifth in a series of six literacy lesson plan publications, designed to be used throughout the three academic school terms.

Introduction

Teaching and learning processes in Kwara State have improved as a result of the introduction of the new lesson plans developed by the State School Improvement Team (SSIT). The recent improvement in the quality of education in Kwara is a direct function of quality teaching.

Evidence of improved teaching quality includes an increase in the number of pupils completing basic education and a general improvement in literacy and numeracy levels.

Teachers in Kwara have experienced tremendous professional improvements through training and refresher programmes on the new lesson plans, facilitated by SSIT and school support officers (SSOs).

These lesson plans, designed and edited by Education Sector Support Programme in Nigeria (ESSPIN), have become Kwara teachers' classroom companion.

As teaching manuals, the lesson plans have been designed to provide a step-by-step guide in the teaching of literacy and numeracy. The lesson plans promote more collaborative, interactive, participatory and reflective learning to encourage children to become active learners.

I am sure that continuous use of these lesson plans by teachers will raise the standard of our education in Kwara State and also assist in consolidating the new administration's education reform.

I therefore appreciate the contribution of the UK Department for International Development (DFID), through ESSPIN, in designing, editing and producing the lesson plans.

Introduction

▶ Asking questions

Effective questioning in the classroom

Questioning is a very useful way to find out what pupils already know and whether they understand what they are learning. It is also a strategy to measure how successful your teaching is.

When you use questioning as part of your teaching, you are involving pupils in their learning, and giving them immediate feedback. This is a good way to develop motivation.

Pupil participation

Ask pupils to discuss questions in pairs or small groups. This is a good way to get the whole class talking. It gives pupils the chance to explain their thinking.

Explain to your class that the question is for them to discuss in a pair or a group. Tell them they have 2—3 minutes to discuss it. Ask the question and walk around the class listening to the pupils talk. You can then ask further questions to extend their thinking or help their understanding.

Thinking time

It is really important that when you ask pupils questions you count to 15 in your head before you choose someone to answer. This gives all pupils the chance to think of something to say, not just the ‘quick thinkers’.

When asking questions remember to choose pupils from different areas of the classroom – choose pupils who do not have their hand up and choose pupils whose understanding you want to check.

Different questions

The main types of questions are ‘closed’ questions and ‘open’ questions. When you ask closed questions there will only be one answer, eg: ‘What is 3 x 4?’, ‘What colour is the dog in the story?’. It is easier to ask closed questions. An open question is one that has many answers, eg: ‘What do you think Hassan likes doing on a Saturday?’ Asking open questions makes children think of different ideas.

'i-e' story

It is five to nine. The sun starts to shine. Ali puts his white shirt on. He goes outside. He sits under a pine tree. Omi rides his bike. They like being outside. 'Let us play hide and seek,' says Ali. He finds a wide pipe to hide in. Omi sees his white shirt and shouts, 'I can see you.'

'a-e' story

Edet and Danladi made a game. Edet was a snake. Danladi was eating a cake. Edet was chasing Danladi and trying to make her fall down. She was trying to escape. She had to get to the lake and swim to a secret cave.

'o-e' story

The dog woke up. He was at home alone. He looked for a bone but all he found was a stone.

Who is it?

Sit one pupil on a chair with his or her back to the rest of the class.

Point to another pupil to come and tap him or her on the head and say, 'Who is it?'

Ask the pupil on the chair to guess who is asking the question.

As soon as the pupil on the chair guesses correctly, change the pupils and let other pupils have a turn.

This game can be played in groups.

Adjective game

Gather the pupils in a circle.

Ask a pupil to say a noun, eg: 'man', 'goat', 'house'.

Ask the next pupil to think of an adjective to describe the noun, eg: 'an angry man'.

Tell the next pupil to continue with another adjective, eg: 'an angry, fat man'.

Continue until no one can think of any more adjectives.

Introduction

▶ Teaching aids

Medicine

When you are ill, the doctor may give you some medicine. This medicine can be syrup in a bottle or tablets. It can also be lotion in a tube.

Read the instructions with the medicine to find out how much medicine to take, and when to take it. It is dangerous to take too much medicine.

Do not take other people's medicines. Do not give your medicine to other people. Keep your medicine in a safe place. If a young child takes your medicine, he or she will get very ill.

Staying healthy

- 1 Stay clean. Wash every day with soap and water. Insects love dirt and insects bring illness.
- 2 Brush your teeth every day. Food gets in between your teeth and will go bad if you don't clean your teeth.
- 3 Wash your clothes often with soap and water. Insects do not like soap.
- 4 Drink clean water. The water we get from the river, or even from a pump or well, is not really clean. Boil water to make it clean.
- 5 Clean your house. Old bits of food and clothes bring rats and flies.

Adverbs

Adverbs are words that tell us more about how an action is done. Adverbs answer three main questions:
How? When? Where?

Adverbs that answer the question 'How?' are called Adverbs of manner.

How is he writing?
He is writing carefully.

How are they singing?
They are singing sweetly.

How is the man talking?
He is talking softly.

How is she dancing?
She is dancing gracefully.

Adverbs that answer the question 'Where?' are called Adverbs of place.

Where is she? She is here.

Where is he? He is there.

Adverbs that answer the question 'When?' are called Adverbs of time.

When do you comb your hair? I comb my hair after my bath.

When did you buy the dress? I bought it yesterday.

When will they be here? They will be here next week.

When do you want the homework? I want it now.

Letter from the farm

The cotton farm
Kaduna
May 1st 2013

My dear parents,

Thank you for letting me come to the farm. Fatima helped Ahmed plant the cotton seeds. After a few weeks the flowers grew. When the flowers died the fruit grew. The fruit is called a cotton boll. Ahmed and Fatima picked the boll. I am helping them.

Your loving son,
Edet

Introduction

Whole class teaching

Hold up the key words and choose some pupils to read and explain them.

Ask the pupils what they remember about how cotton grows.

Read Macmillan Primary English 3, pages 130—131 to them again.

Main activity

Group task

Tell the pupils they are going to write an information report about cotton.

Give each group a set of key words to use in their sentences.

Write, 'how', 'what', 'why', 'when' and 'where' on the chalkboard.

Tell them to use these words to get ideas for their sentences.

Tell them to think about where cotton grows, what happens to it, when it is picked, etc.

Write 'cotton' on the chalkboard and ask them to copy it in their exercise books.

Tell them to write as many sentences as they can about cotton.

Plenary

Whole class teaching

Choose some pupils to read their information reports.

Ask the class if they have included 'how', 'what', 'why', 'when' and 'where'.

If not, ask them to say what else they could have included.

Credits

Many different stakeholders have contributed to the development and production of these lesson plans.

Much of the work was done by the Kwara State School Improvement Team.

Special thanks go to:

Honourable Commissioner for Education and Human Capital Development (MOEHCD), Alhaji Saka Onimago, the Executive Chairman of the State Universal Basic Education Board (SUBEB), Alhaji (Barr) Lanre Daibu and their staff for their time and valuable input.

The Teacher Development Division School, MOEHCD, School Improvement Unit, SUBEB, and the State School Improvement Team (SSIT) for their contributions.

UK Department for International Development (DFID) and the DFID-funded ESSPIN programme, whose staff and consultants provided inputs, focus, guidance and constructive criticism throughout.

Thanks also go to the teachers of Kwara State who have used these plans and started to bring about change in their classrooms.
